

Hello!

We hope our Autumn E-newsletter finds you and your family doing well. We have been busy in the Northern Region visiting a number of our counties and also planning for our Family Listening Sessions. We enjoy offering parents and caregivers a night out, and both a delicious meal and gas cards are included for each participant. If you are interested in attending an upcoming Family Listening Session or having a session near you, please give us a call at 715-261-1906 or send us an email. (Click below to find out more about Stevens Point's session.)

We are still looking for fresh, innovative ideas and better ways to support you. If you have a topic you're interested in learning about, or you'd like to share feedback, please let us know!

Sincerely,

NORTHERN REGIONAL CENTER CYSHCN AUTUMN 2015 NEWSLETTER

What Does Youth Health Transition Really Mean?

There are many transitions in a person's life, but let's narrow the field and look at the process of youth getting ready for healthcare as an adult. As a parent or caregiver, we are used to taking charge of our child's medical care. Helping our youth learn skills to become more independent and in control of one's own healthcare usually begins in the teenage years.

Much information for both youth and parents can be found a t Got Transition, a national website that provides guidance about all of the elements of this process. The Frequently Asked Questions section has answers about things like changing from a pediatrician to a doctor that provides adult care or how healthcare changes from childhood to adulthood, even if you are seeing a family physician.

Also within this website, information is offered to parents on how they can support and teach their youth to become more independent. If a youth has intellectual disabilities they may not be able to make all of their own health care decisions. Learn more about Guardianship and supported decision-making which involve legal procedures.

How can we help? The Regional Center for Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs can provide information, support and connect families to local services on healthcare transition decisions, as well as education and employment, medical home, legal decision making, community living and connections to adult long term care services.

Thinking About a Family Get-Away?

Did you know that state parks and private resorts have accommodations for people with disabilities? Some are year-round. Here are a few examples for you to check out:

- Sunset Pines Resort located near Willard, WI. The resort has special accommodations for individuals with disabilities. Financial assistance is available with a Lodging Assistance Scholarship through Rock Creek Disabled Outdoors, Inc., and qualifying customers can stay at Sunset Pines Resort for a very reduced price.
- Pine Forest Lodge and Resort They have four year-round wheelchair accessible cabins.

 Adaptive toys such as sit water and cross country skis and hand crank bikes can be arranged with enough notice. The main lodge and three docks are also accessible.

• WI State Park Accessible Cabins For those unable to use outdoor campsites, the Wisconsin state park system offers 10 accessible cabins
in various Wisconsin State Parks. There are eight larger cabins with amenities in the Wisconsin State Park System. There are also two smaller, rustic cabins. These cabins are available only to people with disabilities and their guests and must be reserved ahead of time.
